

Four-Year Colleges Attended by Fortune 1000 CEOs

Even though we want our students to go to the best schools possible, our primary goal is the best personal fit for the student: academically, financially, and socially. Obviously, not everyone can attend an Ivy League college such as Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Penn, Columbia, Cornell, Brown, and Dartmouth; several Fortune 1000 CEOs did not and obviously they were successful.

University of Bonn and Cologne
Hiram College
University of Wyoming
University of Michigan
University of California-Davis
University of Wisconsin, Superior
Providence College
Tufts University
Loyola University
Valparaiso University;
California State University at Los Angeles
Stanford University
University of Nebraska
Stanford University
College of Holy Cross
Iowa State University
University of Cape Town
Lehigh University
University of Michigan
Southern Illinois University
University of British Columbia
University of South Carolina
University of Wisconsin at Madison
Kettering University
Williams College
Brigham Young University
Oklahoma State University
University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia
St. Francis College
St. Olaf College
University of Virginia
The University of Akron

Whittier College
University of Delaware
University of Northern Iowa
University of Rochester
Michigan State
University-of San Francisco
CUNY
University of Colorado
University of Cincinnati
DePaul University in Chicago
Iona College
University of Houston
University of Virginia
Adelphi University
Slippery Rock
Louisiana State University
University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Texas A&M University
Southeastern University
University of Iowa
Salve Regina College
Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology
University of Arizona
Binghamton University, SUNY
John Carroll University
Lehigh University
University of Texas
U.S. Naval Academy
Pacific Coast Baptist College
University of Arizona.
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute;
University of Texas at Austin
Ohio University

LaSalle University
University of Cincinnati
University of Texas
University of Utah
Ohio State University
University of Notre Dame
DePaul University

Davidson College
Bangalore University
University of Montana
University of Hawaii
Union College
Southeast Missouri State University;
Rutgers University
Pennsylvania State University
U.S. Naval Academy
University of Michigan
University of San Francisco

Masters University of Michigan
University of San Francisco
University of Michigan
University of St. Thomas
Drexel University
University of Massachusetts at Lowell
Ithaca College
Louisiana State University
Indiana University
Nichols College
Union College

Source: Burson-Marsteller, USA
TODAY